Treated sewage water to flow into Karanji Lake

- Treated water will be pumped from Vidyaranyapuram Sewage Treatment Plant through pipeline
- Zoo Authority sends water samples to Pollution Control Board to certify oxygen and chemical content

Mysuru, Feb. 20 (MTY&BCT)- In the wake of Karanji Lake Nature Park, one of the tourist hot-spots in city, going dry, the Mysuru Zoo Management has come up with a proposal to draw treated sewage water from the Mysuru City Corporation's Sewage Treatment Plant (STP) located at Vidyaranyapuram. The water will be brought to the foothills of Chamundi and from there it will naturally flow towards the Karanji Lake through Rajakaluves.

The Lake has gone dry this year even before the onset of summer and the Zoo Authority that manages the Lake had stopped boating activity from Feb. 8. Lack of rains last year is being cited as the prime reason for the drop in water level. Now the authority is mulling to draw treated sewage water to fill the Lake and restore its natural beauty. This plan, if materialises, will attract summer tourists who flock the Zoo in the holiday season. Confirming this to Star of Mysore, Zoo Executive Director Ajit M. Kulkarni has said that the Zoo management had taken a decision to ensure water in the Lake even during summer and when there is deficient rain.

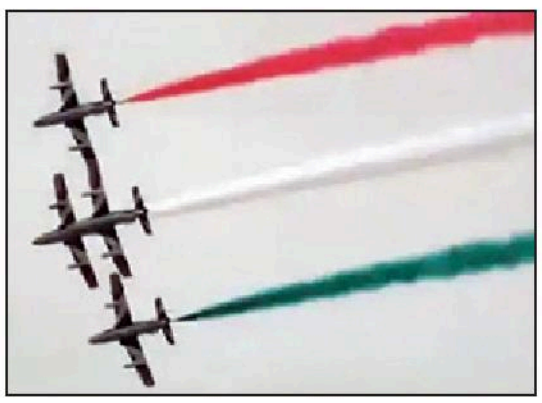
Karanji Lake has gone dry this year even before the onset of summer. According to naturalists, this is the best time to dredge the Lake so that it can hold more water and the dredging must be done before the treated sewage is pumped into the Lake.

Aircraft dazzles the skies
as Aero India begins in Bengaluru



Aero Show to conclude on Feb. 24

Bengaluru, Feb. 20 (UNI)- The 12th Edition of Asia's premier Air Show 'Aero India-2019' began at Yelahanka Air Force Station in Bengaluru this morning with 61 metal birds, including HAL's indigenous products Light Combat Aircraft Tejas all set to roar in the skies. The five-day long biennial event, which will showcase India's air defence prowess, will also act as a platform for aviation companies, the defence sector and government to forge new alliances and contracts.

The Air Show, however, began on a sombre note under the collective shadow of the Pulwama terror attack, the simmering Rafale controversy, the recent fatal Mirage 2000 crash and the death of Wing Commander Sahil Gandhi from Indian Air Force's aerobatic team Surya Kiran during the show rehearsal yesterday. This morning, Rafale combat aircraft flew at low speed to pay tribute to Wing Commander Sahil Gandhi.

Dealing with diversity

The slogan that public speakers took fascination to say with pride that society used to hear until not too long ago, namely unity in diversity, applied to the land's masses, seems to have become not only outdated but also suffered a time-warp. Considering the number of causes triggering road shows in their pursuit by well-marked sections of the country's population expressing disenchantment with the policies and measures of successive governments, one cannot but feel amazed at the nation of multiple faiths, lingos, ethnicity, economic disparities and Constitutional privileges still holding together unlike during the past many centuries with more than 500 rulers of their territories waging wars, giving an open invitation to many alien forces, two of which stayed in the land and took complete charge of the country, about which one can read in the pages of the land's chequered history. Although the country is endowed with the presence of persons whose wisdom and upright character are unquestionable, their voice have been subdued and their influence on societal behaviour hardly noticeable. In this context, setting aside human diversity for a while, one is justified to focus on biodiversity and ponder over safeguarding that nature's gift on top priority.

The land's scholars of yore, many of whom immortalised themselves as authors of scripts dedicated to nature in all its forms, both life forms and inanimate forms, have left a rich legacy of knowledge that should serve as guidelines in the daunting task of sustaining biodiversity as the lifeline for human existence for all times. But, these guidelines are followed more in breach than conforming in our times.

The fallout of diversity in the land's population on counts of faiths, languages, ethnicity, economic disparities and rights of the well-marked privileged sections of the land's population, finding its expression through protests, marches, bandhs and strikes by salaried employees both in Government Departments and industrial establishments, often paralysing orderly life of the people, is proving beyond the capability of administrations, no matter which political party is at the helm. However, sustaining biodiversity, perceived in the form of flora and fauna, soil, water sources, hills, deserts (or as stated in Kannada: Sthaavara, jungama) and air can be dealt with brazen apathy only to the ultimate end of human populations sooner than later.

In the backdrop of the foregoing preamble, the Conference of 196 countries held in Egypt last November with the agenda of how to safeguard biological resources rightly pointed the accusing finger at human populations across the world in mismanaging biodiversity. Mysureans have an opportunity to be a part of the world's community in making a difference from the past, in however small way.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Take glamorous celebrities, who enjoy prosperity and popularity. Money can buy them everything ! Yet, we routinely hear of the struggles of famous figures, as they battle misfortune on the personal and professional front. Film-stars, especially, are under persistent pressure to look perfect. They must always be at their bewitching best, regardless of the relentless march of time. Growing old gracefully is a luxury that with all the wealth in the world, they cannot afford. An obsessive preoccupation with one's appearance is dangerous. As we know, it has led several iconic individuals not only to depression but also to death. — Suryakumari Dennison in Deccan Herald

The dog with an extra mouth

Oklahoma: A five-year-old grey pitbull mix named Toad, suffers from a very rare deformity – she has a second mouth, complete with teeth and salivating glands, growing on the side of her head where her right year should be.

Toad arrived at the Oklahoma City Animal Welfare shelter two years ago, as a stray. The staff realized almost immediately that there was something different about her, and after a thorough checkup that they realized that wasn't a normal ear, but a second mouth, with fully developed teeth and saliva coming out of it.

Only two teeth are clearly visible in Toad's second mouth, but her caretakers say that there are more of them deeper inside, some of which had to be removed because they were-cracked. However, the two large teeth cannot be removed, because they are attached to her skull.

Skull-shaped charcoal for barbecue

When Sekisadamu came up with the idea for his creepy charcoal skulls, he never really though about commercial potential. He merely wanted something cool to show off at the recently concluded Wonder Festival, in Chiba, Japan.

But after posting photos of his creations on Twitter, he got an overwhelming response – over 13,000 likes and almost 9,300 retweets and started contemplating the idea of making charcoal skulls. The Japanese artist has already announced that he has set up a domain name for them and begun procedures to register a trademark. So fire up your grill, cause charcoal skulls are coming.

Dumb India, Deaf Pak: Twain shall never talk?

Sir,

"It is the rulers and the Army (in Pakistan) that have made the majority of wonderful, affectionate Pakistani Muslims IRRELEVANT." This sentence from your Abracadabra titled "Dumb India, Deaf Pak — Twain shall never talk?" of Aug. 25, 2015, reproduced in SOM dated Feb.19, 2019, stands very much RELEVANT even to this day. This explains the state of our neighbourhood since the birth of Pakistan, we may say.

It is also a matter of hope that "..., though talks may have failed for now. The hearts of Pakistan and India will not fail. No heart failure!" There have occurred various instances of cordial harmony but they hardly have made any news.

A great majority of the Indians look forward for "the educated new generation of Pakistanis" moving forward towards "paving way for Hindu-Muslim brotherhood as good neighbours." You have stated it with certainty that "It is possible."

I pray "Into that heaven of freedom, my father, Let my country Awake." And I wish it to happen during our lifetime, so that we too can retain our faith in humanity !

Continue ban on land conversion in Kodagu: CWS

Mysuru, Feb. 20- The Coorg Wildlife Society (CWS) has requested the State Government to continue the existing policy of total ban on conversion of agricultural land, plantation land and paddy land into commercial and residential layouts in Kodagu.

In a letter to Chief Secretary T.M. Vijay Bhaskar, President of CWS K.C. Biddappa has said that one of the reasons for devastating floods and unprecedented landslides that played havoc on thousands of planters and residents of Kodagu is rampant and indiscriminate land conversions that have eroded the mountains and hilly regions.

Taking into consideration the long-term sustainability of Kodagu landscape, we request you to continue the existing policy of total ban on conversion of agricultural land, plantation land and paddy lands for commercial and residential layouts despite pressure from vested interests, Biddappa has stated. However for genuine farmers and planters permission may be given to convert 5 to 10 cents of their land to build farm houses and related amenities.

Two killed as MLA C.T. Ravi's car crashes into parked vehicles

Deceased Sunil Gowda and Shashikumar

Kunigal, (Tumakuru), Feb.20- Two youths were killed and three others suffered injuries, when the car in which Chikkamagalur BJP MLA C.T. Ravi was travelling, rammed into two vehicles parked on the roadside near Urkenahalli Gate close to Kunigal on Bengaluru-Mangaluru Highway in the wee hours of Tuesday.

The deceased have been identified as Sunil Gowda and Shashikumar, both 28 and residents of Suranahalli village in Kanakapura taluk.

Sunil Gowda and Shashikumar were close friends and worked for a private company in Bengaluru. Both the deceased had their lands in the village.

Twelve youths from Suranahalli had been on a tour to Sringeri, Horanadu and other shrines in two vehicles and were returning to the village travelling on Bengaluru-Mangaluru Highway.

At about 2 am on Tuesday, they parked the vehicles near Ukenahalli Gate for exchanging of luggages, when MLA C.T. Ravi's car that was proceeding to Bengaluru, rammed into the parked vehicle.

Due to the impact of the crash, Sunil Gowda and Shashikumar were killed on the spot and three others who sustained injuries were shifted to Kunigal Hospital.

Gram Panchayat member murdered at village fair

A long-standing case of dowry harassment suspected to be the motive

Pandavapura, Feb. 20- A Gram Panchayat member was killed by a group people during a festival at a local temple in Chikkade village in Pandavapura taluk yesterday. 50-year-old Thimmegowda was hacked to death by a group in broad daylight in front of hundreds of people participating in the temple festival allegedly over an old enmity.

Thimmegowda

The accused have been identified as Anand alias Devegowda, Yogegowda, his son Madan and friends Kumar and Chandu. Along with Thimmegowda, APMC Member Swamygowda, Thimmegowda's son Vinayaka and relatives Gowtham and Mahesh have been seriously injured.

According to eyewitnesses, the miscreants had accosted the victim when he was near the temple during Goddess Deviramma festival. They picked up a fight with him over an old dispute. Soon, they allegedly attacked him with lethal weapons and killed him on the spot.

Vinayaka, Gowtham, Mahesh and Swamygowda tried to save Thimmegowda and they too were attacked by miscreants. The injured are being treated at a hospital in Mysuru.

According to a few residents, there was infighting in the village over organising the festival and Thimmegowda was targeted because he was the leader of a faction in the village. But Police and villagers said that more than factionalism, a long-standing family dispute between Thimmegowda and Yogegowda led to the murder.

Thimmegowda's niece Sahana had married Yogegowda's son Madan as they were in a relationship and the two families decided to get them married. Everything was hunky-dory in the beginning and according to Sahana's family, Madan began to allegedly harass her for dowry. Fed up of daily harassment, Sahana allegedly left her husband's place and came to her parents' house.

Later, her family members and her in-laws met before village elders and it was decided to give Rs. 3 lakh as dowry and the money was allegedly paid to Madan's family. Despite this, Madan's family allegedly continued to harass Sahana for more money. After a few months, Sahana booked a Police complaint against Madan and his family members.

Following the dowry harassment case, Madan and his family members secured bail from the Court. Madan's father Yogegowda had accused Thimmegowda of influencing Sahana's family members to file the dowry harassment complaint.

The animosity grew and Yogegowda and his family members were allegedly waiting for an opportunity to settle scores with Thimmegowda and the opportunity came in the form of Goddess Deviramma festival where Thimmegowda was allegedly attacked.

A tense situation prevailed in the village amid heavy deployment of Police personnel. An FIR has been registered at Pandavapura Police Station. Yogegowda has been arrested and search is on for the other accused including some women, Police said.

Villagers alleged that there was absolute lack of Police security at yesterday's Deviramma festival. In the past, security was provided in view of communal tension and factionalism in the village. But this year, only four Policemen were deployed and they too did not intervene when the attack on Thimmegowda happened, alleged villagers.

Mysuru, Feb. 20 (PM&DM)- Gowrishankarnagar resident Gurupadaswamy has refuted the allegations that illegal construction was going on in the agricultural land at the foot of Chamundi Hill belonging to Aramane Panchagavi Mutt.

Addressing a press meet here yesterday, Gurupadaswamy termed the allegations made by another resident M. Nandeesh that unauthorised construction was going on in the land belonging to Muzarai Department's Aramane Panchagavi Mutt, as baseless.

Pointing out that agricultural land coming under Mysuru Taluk Kasaba Hobli Survey Numbers 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, and 163 was the property of Panchangavi Mutt, he said that as the land failed to generate revenue, the then Mutt Seer Shantaveerendra Swamiji in 1983-84, had formed sites and sold them to about 500 people at affordable rates.

The Swamiji had also earmarked land for construction of a school and student hostel, Gurupadaswamy said.

Claiming that Nandeesh, who has been making baseless allegations, had constructed a house at a site belonging to the Mutt, he urged Nandeesh to first vacate the house and hand over the same to the Government, before making any allegations. Shantveerendra Swamiji, Udigala Mahadevappa, Veeramahesh and others were present.

In this week's Pet Talk,
Maneka says about laws against relocation of dogs and how to introduce pet dogs to stray dogs in the locality

Pet Talk

Maneka Gandhi

Is it safe to go on long road trips with my pet?

Yes. Going on road trips with your pet can be a nice way to bond with them, provided you prepare the necessary items to ascertain a comfortable journey for your pet. Carry with you documentation, like health and vaccination certificates, and proof of ownership as well. Take with you adequate amount of pet food, treats, flea control products, favourite toys and medications. Also, get your pet checked out by the Vet before going on any long journey. If your pet does not have experience of travelling in moving vehicles then it would also be helpful to take short journeys with your pet, to get him/ her accustomed to travelling in a vehicle.

I want to get the community dogs in my colony neutered. Is it costly to do so?

If you get it done by approaching the Municipal Corporation, or an NGO, then it can be done completely free and cheap. However, if you want to get it done privately the cost of the operation starts around Rs.1,800 for a single dog, depending on your vet. Under the Animal Birth Control (Dogs) Rules, 2001, street dogs are to be sterilized, vaccinated and subsequently released into the same area from where they were captured. It is a crime to relocate dogs to new territories. You can read up more information on this law on the link: http://www.awbi.org/awbi-pdf/SOP.pdf

What are the laws against relocation of dogs in India? How can it be reported?

It is a crime to relocate dogs under the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Act, 1960. Dogs are naturally territorial, and to remove them from their original territory is infliction of cruelty on these animals. If a dog is relocated into a new territory then the dogs in the new territory will attack the new dogs, and this almost always will result with the relocated dogs getting gravely injured or even death. The new relocated dogs may even bite people.

According to the Animal Birth Control (Dog) Rules, 2001 made under the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Act, sub-rule 6 of Rule 7, it is illegal to relocate dogs who have been sprayed and neutered. Community dogs can only be taken away for the purposes of getting them sprayed or neutered or treating them for any disease. However, after surgery or treatment they must be left back in their original territory. If you find any violations of these laws then you must report it to the Police. You can also contact your nearest animal welfare organisation, or NGO, to get further guidance and help about the procedure.

Should I introduce my pet dog to the stray dogs in our locality, so that they don't attack him?

Street dogs tend to be aggressive towards pet dogs because they consider them to be intruders in their territories. This can pose a serious threat towards the pet dog, if under attack by a pack. However, it is indeed possible to introduce your pet dog to the strays on your street and ensure harmony between them.

Befriend the street dogs and assure them through your body language that you and your dog are not trying to intrude into their territory. Carry biscuits, if possible when you take your pet for a walk, to feed them. Once the dogs are assured that your dog means no harm, they will probably tolerate him/her in their street. If you are lucky, they might even play with him/her. However, ensure that your pet is properly vaccinated before letting him/her play with the streeties. Your love should extend beyond possession. Therefore, if you can, make sure the streeties are also vaccinated and fed regularly.

Mythology, whether from India, Egypt or Greece or anywhere in the World Civilisations, has wonderful tales of animals.

People cursed to take animal forms, animals cursed to take plant forms and the like. How true is not the question here but how fascinating and connected to the description of these Myths around the creatures is the wonder here.

The bird here today is the White-throated Kingfisher - Halcyon smyrnensis. A member of the Kingfishers family of Alcedinidae. This particular Kingfisher, the White-throated Kingfisher, is unique in its own way. Being a Kingfisher, it naturally means that they prey on fish. Yes, this Kingfisher does prey on fish, only when opportunity favours.

Being a Kingfisher means, they need a water-body like a lake, river or pond to hunt fish. This Kingfisher, defies all these and is least dependent on water bodies. So what does the Kingfisher do for preying?

Evolution has solved this problem of Kingfisher by making it the most diverse feeding bird, being highly opportunistic in preying, it takes anything from baby birds to baby snakes; Skinks, Frogs, Toads, Scorpions, Lizards, Insects, Molluscs or whatever it can catch, batter and swallow. This habit of Kingfisher makes it least dependent on water bodies. It can stay miles away from any water source and live on preying whatever is available there to hunt. The most versatile feeding habit keeps the Kingfisher in all habitats including home gardens and parks. Living on the reptiles and other bird's chicks in the area.

These birds, while being around water bodies, hunt fish by taking a strategic perch to over look the water and locate fish and plunge into the water and catch them. This is a sight to see them going deep into the water with their plunging and explode out of the water with a fish in their beak, to be battered on a nearby tree branch and swallowed.

The myth woven in Ancient Greek Civilisation is about its habit of plunging into the water. The myth goes like this:

In Taxonomical naming, this bird has the first Generic name as HALCYON, which is derivative of the word 'Alcyone,' daughter of Aeolus the King, who plunged into the sea seeing her husband Ceyx drowning, and upon not finding him, turned into a bird. Ever since, it is believed that Alcyone keeps plunging into the water to find her husband. This was first mentioned in town of SMYRNA in Ancient Turkey and the bird today is called HALCYON SMYRNENSIS.

Whether true or not, the White-throated Kingfisher is a fascinating bird nesting on the river and canal mud banks, creating a tunnel and both male & female taking care of all domestic chores.

The bird has to be protected by protecting its habitat and nesting sites. Though not endangered in the list by IUCN, this bird still needs our concern and care to live along with us forever.

'Give equal importance to nature, culture as to science, technology'

Mata Amritanandamayi at 19th Brahmastanam Varshikotsava

Mysuru, Feb.20 (YDS&NNN)- The importance given to Science and Technology these days must also be given to protecting nature and culture, said Mata Amritanandamayi, fondly called as Amma.

She was speaking at the 19th Brahmastanam Varshikotsava while participating in bhajans, satsang and dhyana organised at the Mata Amritanandamayi Mutt premises in Bogadi 2nd Stage here yesterday and said that just as Science and Technology is the focus today, the concentration must also be on conserving nature, culture and learning to give equal importance to fellow beings otherwise, the society would be like a chair with a broken leg and those who sit on it are bound to fall, she cautioned.

Just as one cannot enjoy music without proper tone, notes, melody or rhythmic cycles, even in life, nature sets the tone, notes and melody and if one does not follow the nature's cycles then one cannot enjoy peace and bliss. Hence, it is very important to follow nature's rules and thus lay stress on equality, sacrifice, and yajna, she said.

Criticism, comments are good: Criticism and comments are always good for the growth of a healthy society. All of us have freedom to criticise and comment. However, one does not have the freedom to bring in disharmony in the society by criticising or making comments that would hurt people's sentiments. Instead, if it is used for the betterment of the society, it is always welcome, she pointed out.

There is message in natural disaster: In every natural disasters that occurs, there is a hidden message, which means all it requires for nature that is giving so much bounteously, is to destroy it all in a minute. If one understands this simple truth, then one will learn to respect nature in thought, deed and action. Then nature will not become man's enemy and instead become his closest ally, she said.

Rs. 5 lakh each to Pulwama martyrs

On the occasion, Rs.5 lakh each to the families of the martyred soldiers of Pulwama terrorist attack was announced. Later, under Women Empowerment scheme, sarees and Rs. 30,000 cash were distributed to 25 Self Help Groups.

Today we are all living in a fast paced world. Speed is our mantra and all of us are in a tearing hurry to complete every task very fast. As a result, we do not have time for anything and hence not only is man caught in stress in the outside world, but also internally he is stressed. The body is not able to cope up with the mind that is racing all the time. This has resulted in anger, sorrow, disappointment, tension, hate, intolerance and lack of self confidence, said Mata Amritanandamayi.

For instance, when the aircraft is flying it develops a technical snag. The pilot calls the control room and informs about the problem. The first problem is that the engines have stalled, one does not know in which direction the aeroplane is flying and there is no control over the aircraft. However, the pilot calmly tells the passengers not to panic and ask them to sit back and relax. This is exactly the situation that most of mankind is in today. There is no patience and equanimity and hence, he is not able to understand his aim in life. As a result, it becomes very important to ask simple questions and find answers to them, she said.

Mayor Pushpalatha Jagannath said, Amma is a 'miracle woman' and this is evident in her contributions in the health and education field as also the work she is involved in for the benefit of the poor, thus becoming a role model for everyone.

Corporators Nirmala Harish, Savitha Suresh, industrialist Jagannath Shenoi, GRS Fantasy Park's Yogesh Dange and others were present.

Devotees gathered in large numbers this morning to listen to Mata Amritanandamayi's discourse and also had her individual darshan. There were singing of bhajans, meditation and special pujas were also performed.

Ericsson case: Clear dues or face jail, SC tells Anil Ambani

New Delhi, Feb. 20- Industrialist Anil Ambani was held guilty of contempt this morning by the Supreme Court, which said he will go to jail for three months if he doesn't pay Rs. 453 crore to Ericsson India within four weeks.

Anil Ambani

The Court tore into Reliance Communications Chairman for what it called a "cavalier attitude" and fined him and two of his Directors Rs. 1 crore each. "Anil Ambani and others breached their undertaking," the Court said, calling it "wilful disobedience" of its order that they should repay Swedish Telecom Equipment maker Ericsson.

The Supreme Court ruled that Rs. 180 crore already deposited by Reliance Group in the Court registry be given to Ericsson. It also said any unconditional apology given by Reliance needs to be rejected as they had "breached the undertaking and order."

In a statement, a Reliance Communication Limited spokesperson said: "We respect the Supreme Court judgement. The RCOM Group shall comply with the same."

Ericsson India signed a seven-year deal with RCOM in 2014 to manage and operate its network. Last year, it went to the Supreme Court against Anil Ambani's company over unpaid dues of Rs. 550 crore.

Treated sewage water to Karanji Lake

"Removal of silt in the Lake is not feasible as we want to retain the natural environment of the Lake that is home for rich flora and fauna including aquatic species. If we desilt, the Lake will resemble a tank where boating activity is done. We want to fill water into the Lake and only select places will be desilted without hampering its beauty," he said.

The proposal to draw treated water was discussed recently at a meeting of MCC, Zoo Authority and related Departments. "We placed an oral proposal to draw water from the STP in Vidyaranyapuram. The STP already supplies treated water to Race Club and Golf Course to irrigate lawns. The MCC officials have in principle agreed to share the treated water," Kulkarni said.

At present, sewage collected at the STP, after being treated, is discharged into storm water drain. "We have sent water samples to Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB) to certify that the treated sewage does not cause any harm to the Lake ecosystem. KSPCB will also certify oxygen and chemical levels in treated water. We are expecting the report in one or two days," the Zoo Executive Director said.

Once the KSPCB submits report, a formal proposal will be sent to the MCC for clearance. "Three-foot pipes will be laid to cover the 5 km distance from Vidyaranyapuram STP till the foothills of Chamundi. From there, water will be fed to Rajakaluves and the same will reach the Lake naturally by where the water travels a distance of about two-and-a-half kms," he said.

For the Rajakaluves to carry water, greenery will be The Zoo Authority will cover it with plants, algae for natural flow of water. "In this process, the water will get naturally filtered before it reaches the Lake," he added. On the total cost of the project, Kulkarni said that it is expected to be Rs. 3 core but still the project is in its nascent stage, he added.

MCC Superintending Engineer Suresh said they were ready to supply treated Sewage to Karanji Lake. "The project cost, pipes, motors, overhead costs and maintenance is borne by Zoo Authority and our role is to just supply water to the pipeline," he said.

Aircraft dazzles the skies

Defence Minister Nirmala Sitharaman launched the show and invited the heads of global defence aerospace companies and policy-makers to make big investments in the country's two niche areas.

"Aero India intends to put India on the global map. It will show India's prowess in defence and aviation over the years. PM Modi has repeatedly called Indian entrepreneurs to rise and help the manufacturing sector in India under the 'Make in India' campaign," she said.

"The contribution in aero-space from this part of India (Bengaluru) is very high. We have released a coffee table book which shows the achievements of young start-ups. Start-ups are making a very big difference in the aero-space industry," the Defence Minister added.

Karnataka Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy highlighted Bengaluru's presence as the design, research and production hub of aerospace and defence in the country. Mangaluru, he said, would next be developed as a defence manufacturing locale.

Despite its low-key presence in the previous air shows, the Rafale is dominating the show venue. However, Surya Kiran Aerobatics Team Aircraft had their canopies covered on runway behind the inaugural venue of Aero India. The aircraft will not participate in the show due to the loss of two aircraft and Wing Commander Sahil Gandhi in the mid-air collision yesterday.

PWD begins two-day Road Traffic Survey

A buffet of movies at BIFFes - 2019 !

The 11th edition of BIFFes (Bengaluru International Film Festival) will be kickstarted on Feb.21 at The Orion Mall in Rajajinagar, Bengaluru. The week-long festival of movies will be screened on 11 screens till Feb. 28. Ahead of BIFFes-2019, Dr. Veena Bharathi interviewed Namma Preetiya Huduga Nagathihalli Chandrashekar, the present Chairman of Karnataka Chalanachitra Academy, for Star of Mysore. Excerpts...

Dr. Veena Bharathi

By Dr. Veena Bharathi

Star of Mysore (SOM): What according to you is the highlight of BIFFes - 2019?

Nagathihalli Chandrashekar (NC): We have selected films of exceptional quality, included movies which had won Oscar nominations and films which have won regional, national and international acclaim. We have selected movies from a small country like Poland, which has been making a lot of intellectual, exceptional films. The highlight of BIFFes is the thought-provoking contents of films, rather than their technological excellence.

SOM: Where do you feel Indian Cinemas stand apart and also what do our movie Directors and Producers need to learn from movies made from other countries?

NC: We, Indian movie-makers are narrative or story-telling in nature. Right from the art of Yakshagana, we have been oriented about story - narrating in an artistic, in-depth way. But yet, some of the Directors in India do not know the proper differences between a documentary film or a biopic and an artistic or a commercial film. When compared to the movies made in other countries, content-wise, tradition-wise, we are very strong. Movies from foreign countries reflect cinematic excellence, because of their imbibed combination of well-researched theme, with technologically advanced presentation. Anyway, all of us in the movie-making field have to learn from each other's strong points.

SOM: Despite in 11th year of its glory, why BIFFes has not been accorded International accreditation?

NC: Because, for any International Film Festival, a well-organised, structured team is supposed to work for an entire year. Here, the freshly appointed members/the Committee start working towards the Festival only about three months before the Film Festival ! This year, we are hoping to get the FIAPF (International Federation of Film Producers' Association, based in Paris, which is In-Charge of regulating International Film Festivals) accreditation, since we are going to put a system in place. Every year, we are supposed to conduct the BIFFes, on the same dates, the same month so that no International Film Festival is going to overlap with one another. We are in the process of streamlining all the documents essential for procuring the FIAPF accreditation. We need to follow all the protocols and norms put forth by the FIAPF.

SOM: What according to you are the steps to be taken by Chalanachitra Academy and the Government of Karnataka to make BIFFes more world class?

NC: The government has already given two-and-a-half acres of land in Nandini Layout, from which our office has been functioning, for the last 3 months, working towards hosting the BIFFes. I feel, in the same land, the government can build a multiplex and lease it out (except for the duration for conducting BIFFes). Thus, a source of revenue can also be obtained for conducting the festival, along with a permanent infrastructure to screen the movies. The Information Department has already been sponsoring awards for the movies, which win in the film festival. To make BIFFes world class, we should have the mindset tuned to "country focus with a global outlook."

SOM: What are the themes chosen, under which films are exhibited?

NC: We have chosen the theme "Nature's fury" in view of the floods that ravaged Madikeri and Kerala. Hence, films and documentaries depicting man-made disasters will be shown. Nearly 250 movies selected from over 60 countries will be screened under specific sections such as Cinema of the world, Asian cinema, Curated documentary, Special theme-based films. Since it is the 150th birth anniversary of Mahatma Gandhi, we have included the best of Indian and world cinema on Gandhi, including the Kannada movie, 'Koormaavataara' directed by Girish Kasaravalli. There is also an exclusive session dedicated to women-centric films. Movies are screened and discussed under Mysuru-born, Veteran Cinematographer V.K. Murthy (of Kagaz ke phool, Pyaasa-fame) Foundation category. BIFFes-2019 will be marking the birth centenary of Swedish Film-maker Ingmar Bergman through a special retrospective. Retrospectives of Director Mrinal Sen and Actor Ambarish will also be held.

SOM: Which are the other film-related activities at The Orion Mall during the week-long BIFFes?

NC: There are going to be sessions covering all the aspects of film-making. An entire auditorium is reserved exclusively for students of Film Institutes, who can interact on subjects like acting, directing, co-producing a movie to virtual reality and digital marketing. Students get the golden opportunity of interacting with some Australian film industry veterans also. Master classes on script writing, cinematography, choreography and sound engineering will also be conducted.

After I assumed the Chairmanship of Karnataka Chalanachitra Academy, my team has already conducted three National Film Festivals over the last 6 months in Mysuru, Belagavi and Mangaluru. Lesser known languages' films such as that of Byari language were also screened.

Even in BIFFes under the category of "Incredible India," movies of unsung Indian languages [including a couple of tribal languages] are going to be screened.

NOTE: A total of 14 Kannada films will be screened at the festival. Kannada films are competing not only in the Kannada films' section, but also in the Asian and the Indian films' competitive section. There is also going to be an interactive group discussion on the Kannada movie "KGF." Last year's BIFFes' country focus was on Germany, this year's country focus is on Poland.

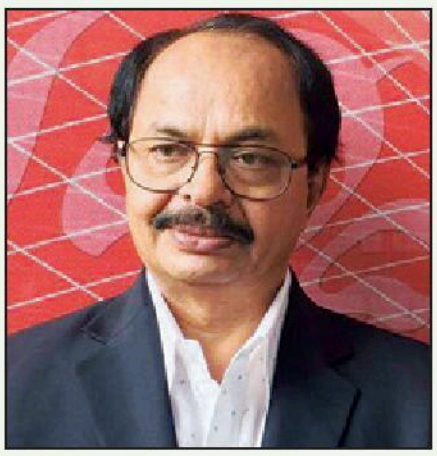
Chalanachitra Academy Chief's Mysuru link

He appeared for MA Kannada exam at Manasagangothri, University of Mysore in 1985, just over a week after getting operated for an acute appendicitis. He held his still aching abdomen in his left hand and wrote all the papers and got all the 10 Gold Medals meant for the highest scorer in Kannada PG degree that academic year ! That's the grit and determination which the young man in his mid-twenties, the rural boy, 'Namma Preetiya Huduga' Nagathihalli Chandrashekhar, showed during a very crucial 'do or die' juncture of his life, more than three decades ago.



Nagathihalli Chandrashekar

About seven months back, Chandrashekhar (Chandru) took over as the Chairman of Karnataka Chalanachitra Academy. Says the writer, former Professor of Kannada and Director of several award-winning Kannada movies, "Soon after my SSLC, though my father had actually wanted me to become a Primary School Teacher just like him, he asked me to pursue Science subjects if at all I intended to do PUC. But when I failed in PUC, he said he could not afford to educate me beyond."

Until he passed the PUC exam, Chandru took to acting on stage in Nagathihalli along with a few of his friends. As an 18-year-old boy, Chandru, at that time, also used to collect two coconuts each from the farmers (and their would-be-sons-in-law!) and auction the coconuts and invest the money thus earned, for buying the street lights, since the village Nagathihalli was devoid of street lamps.

After finishing PUC in his second attempt, his ambition to become somebody in life, overpowered the hardships and the financial constraints that he was facing. "As a 10-year-old boy, I used to often stand at the National Highway-48, leaving my village Nagathihalli. NH-48, somehow seemed to me the road to my future, to realise my dreams," says Chandru. Hence, he travelled to Mysore, joined as a Casual Labourer in Mysore Dairy after bidding 'adieu' to the Science subjects. Chandru completed his BA degree from Maharaja's College, attending the evening classes. During his BA studies, Chandrashekhar went on an introspective mode and as if to mitigate the intensity of his identity crisis, his creativity gave birth to 'Haddugalu' (1982) a collection of Kannada short stories. (His very first Kannada short story had appeared in 'Samyukta Karnataka' Kannada daily, when he was 12 years of age).

During his MA-Kannada PG studies, Chandru again had to face the hardship of working night times at the Mysore Dairy and cycling for about 6 kms to Manasagangothri, for the Day - College at t'The University Campus.' He says, right from his teenage, he had shown an inclination to 'Rangabhoomi' and 'Rangachaluvali.'

After becoming a Kannada lecturer in Bangalore at BES College, three decades back, Chandrashekhar stepped into the Kannada film world as a screenplay and dialogue writer for Suresh Heblikar directed 'Kaadina Benki'. The song for the movie penned by Chandru "Rutumaana samputade hosa kaavya baredavale..." won him the best lyricist National Award. The movies directed by him from early 1990s, spread across a quarter century (Baa nalle Madhu Chandrake, Nanna Preetiya Hudugi, America-America etc.) became super-hits.

As the Chairman of Chalanachitra Academy, during his tenure of three years, Nagathihalli wants to host Film Festivals in different parts of Karnataka. "I also intend to develop Regional Film Societies in Mysuru, Dharwad, Karwar and Shivamogga. Through the Academy, I want to conduct workshops to motivate young directors and producers, script writers on the theme of retaining excellence in film-making," says Chandru.

In his journey, he has been co-passengered by his wife Shobha and now, daughters Kanasu and Sihi. Chandru's residence in Banashankari is called "Sihi-Kanasu" he has named his building that has an auditorium and acting school as 'Lyrics', and in fact, Chandru's life itself can be an itinerary for the posterity, who want to tread the same paths that were chosen by him.—VB

Sri Ramakrishna Rathotsava held

Sri Ramakrishna Ashrama's Swami Shantivratanandaji addressing the gathering at Sri Ramakrishna Rathotsava function held at Ramakrishna Paramahamsa Circle here on Monday as former MLC D. Madegowda and others look on.

Mysuru, Feb.20 (SPN&DM)- Mysuru Sri Ramakrishna Ashrama's Swami Shantivratanandaji has said that the thoughts and principles of Sri Ramakrishna Paramahamsa, Maate Sharada Devi and Swami Vivekananda must be entrenched in every mind and practised in all homes.

He was speaking at Sri Ramakrishna Rathotsava, organised by city's Ramakrishna Balaga at Ramakrishna Paramahamsa Circle in Ramakrishnanagar here on Monday.

Pointing out that the preaching of Ramakrishna Paramahamsa, Sharada Devi and Swami Vivekananda had inspired the then CITB (now MUDA) Chairman D. Madegowda to name three layouts after the three great saints, Swami Shantivratanandaji said the installation of statues of Vivekananda and Paramahamsa was a good development.

Noting that such a giant statue of Ramakrishna Paramahamsa cannot be seen in his (Ramakrishna) home State of West Bengal, the Swamiji said that the citizens of Mysuru had become a model to the nation by the installation of their statues.

Stating that Swami Vivekananda earned global fame through his speeches, he said that it was Swami Vivekananda who spread the rich Indian traditions and Sanatana Dharma to the entire world.

Observing that Ramakrishna Paramahamsa has set a great precedent on how to respect women, through the incarnation of Maate Sharada Devi, he said that although Ramakrishna Paramahamsa had little education, he earned the love and affection of highly learned people.

The Swamiji, who lauded the efforts of Corporator Sunanda Palanetra in the installation of Swami Vivekananda statue, wanted the MCC to also install a statue of Sharada Devi in the city.

Bodha Swaroopanandaji of Ponnampet, Kodagu, said that perhaps Kuvempu would not have attained such fame, had he not learnt at Ramakrishna Ashrama.

Observing that Ramakrishna Ashrama's guidance and Swami Vivekananda's preaching played a crucial role in Kuvempu's achievements as a literary giant, he said that the youth of the country must draw inspiration from Swami Vivekananda's ideology and preachings.

Former MLC D. Madegowda said that the residents of Ramakrishnanagar, Sharadadevinagar and Vivekanandanagar, must remember the three saints daily and imbibe their teachings for leading a better life.

Earlier, a grand procession of Ramakrishna Paramahamsa, Swami Vivekananda and Sharada Devi Ratha were taken out from the Circles named after them.

MCDCC Bank President G.D. Harish Gowda, Suyog Hospital Chairman Dr. S.P. Yogganna, Corporators Lakshmikiran Madegowda, Sunanda Palanetra, Nirmala Harish, Sharath Kumar and others were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Emote

Pronunciation: ih-MOHT

Meaning: To give expression to emotion especially in acting.

Origin: Emote is an example of what linguists call a back-formation—that is, a word formed by trimming down an existing word (in this case, emotion). As is sometimes the case with back-formations, emote has since its coinage in the early 20th century tended toward use that is less than entirely serious. It frequently appears in humorous or deprecating descriptions of the work of actors, and is similarly used to describe theatrical behavior by nonactors. Though a writer sometimes wants us to take someone's "emoting" seriously, a phrase like "expressing emotion" avoids the chance that we will hear some snideness in the writer's words.

Example: "It's not always immediately obvious, but sometimes you fall in love with a band for the way the singers emote." — James Reed, The Boston Globe, 24 Jan. 2012. "Aiming for a higher quality than masks allowed, the makeup artist John Chambers developed a new type of foam rubber and created facial appliances that allowed actors to talk and emote." — Andrew R. Chow, The New York Times, 31 Dec. 2018

THE ODD WORD

Gardyloo

Used by people in medieval Scotland to warn passers-by of waste about to be thrown from a window into the street below.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Put the cart before the horse

Meaning: Reverse the accepted or logical order of things.

Origin: The accompanying horse and cart image looks preposterous. That's as it should be as the word 'preposterous' entered the English language precisely to describe such back to front imagery. Of course, 'pre' derives from Latin and is a standard prefix, that is, it is 'at the front'. Likewise, the Latin 'post' means 'at the back', so 'preposterous' actually denotes the normal arrangement of things, with the front at the front and the back at the back. 'Postprerous' might have been a better choice of word but, like 'head over heels', which also makes no sense, it's too late to change now.

The earliest known reference to 'putting the cart before the horse' comes in John Heywood's A dialogue conteinyng the nomber in effect of all the prouerbes in the englishe tongue, 1589:

To tourne the cat in the pan, Or set the cart before the hors.
